If you do not contact the business before 05/31/2023, the business is required, by law, to send this property to the State Controller's Office (SCO) where you will be entitled to claim it at any time in the future. Please note, if this property is stock or the contents of a safe deposit box, the SCO is required by law to sell the property after a specified time. However, you or your heirs will always be entitled to the net proceeds of the sale. If the contents of the safe deposit box have no commercial value (such as letters or papers) they may be destroyed, but only after the state has held them for a certain period of time.

Important: To prevent your property from being sent to the State, you must contact the business by the date indicated above. This contact information is provided to the SCO by the business and is occasionally subject to change. If you experience difficulty contacting the business using the contact information above, please visit: http://www.sco.ca.gov/upd\_consumerinfo.html and look under 'Updated business contacts' for the most current contact information.
